

MEN IN THE CRIB ARE STILL SAFE.

REPORT OF THE ROANOKE'S LOSS ALSO FALSE.

Missing Steamer Lands Safely In Grand Haven—All Night Long Scores of Men Are Penned Up In the Water Works Crib in Milwaukee and Chicago.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 13.—Neither the crew of the Roanoke, nor the men imprisoned in the crib have lost their lives in the storm. The Roanoke, which was reported lost with all on board landed in Grand Haven safely. The men at the crib have not yet been rescued, but the storm is abating and they are in less danger. Still the slender crib is rocking in the merciless clutch of the blast, and the situation of the unfortunate men within it must be full of horror as well as of suffering. Their little means of protection against the cold must soon be exhausted, if, indeed, they have not been exhausted already.

And even though the worst do not happen, if the thin covering which is their only bulwark against death be not hurled with them into the water starvation will soon add its horrors to the horrors of bitter cold. If they are aware of the peril of their situation their mental can not be less pitiable than their physical condition.

City Engineer Benzenberg tried to get a tug to-day to go to the rescue of the men, but there are no tugs in commission. Mr. Benzenberg said that he considered the men in no great peril, as the house on the crib is much more secure than the one that was wrecked, while the storm was less severe than the one at the time of the crib disaster. There was no danger, Mr. Benzenberg said, of the men starving, as they secured a week's supply of provisions Saturday last.

BLIZZARD IN ILLINOIS.

Worst Storm for Years—Street Cars Abandoned at Galesburg.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., Feb. 13.—This whole section is buried under twelve to fourteen inches of snow, a regular Dakota blizzard having prevailed yesterday. Traffic of all kinds is practically at a standstill and great difficulty is experienced in running railroad trains. It is the worst storm known here in years.

GALESBURG, Ill., Feb. 13.—The worst blizzard for several years set in Sunday night and raged all day yesterday. Street car travel was abandoned. Trains on all the roads were much delayed. The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy held freight trains back and sent out only passenger trains.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Feb. 13.—The most serious blizzard of the year raged since an early hour yesterday morning and six inches or more of snow fell, making street car traffic almost impossible.

JOLIET, Ill., Feb. 13.—The fiercest blizzard ever known in this section swept from the north, with terrific wind and snow, stopping all railway and street car traffic and general business. All business was suspended.

TURNER, Ill., Feb. 13.—The terrible storm that set in about midnight Sunday night raged all along the Northwestern road clear into Iowa and Wisconsin. Passenger and freight trains were all running six and seven hours late.

HAMMOND, Ind., Feb. 13.—A fierce snowstorm raged here since 1 o'clock yesterday morning. The snow is now nearly two feet deep and no signs of abating. Traffic was still open at noon on the trunk lines, but travel on the street car lines was suspended. Reports from other points in northern Indiana indicate blockades.

MICHIGAN CITY, Mich., Feb. 13.—A blizzard raged here all day yesterday. All roads were impassable and business almost suspended. Trains on the Michigan Central and Lake Erie & Western were from one to four hours late.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Feb. 13.—The worst storm of the season is prevailed yesterday. The temperature was 10 above zero. Electric cars were stopped for the first time this winter.

CEAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Feb. 13.—It snowed continuously since 6 o'clock Sunday night, and the snow is now six inches deep, with no prospect of a let-up. So far there has been little interference with railroad or street car traffic.

DETROIT, Feb. 13.—The great south-western blizzard reached this city about 10 o'clock yesterday morning and raged furiously. Street-car traffic has not yet been seriously interrupted. Reports from all over the state show that the blizzard was generally prevailing.

DEATH IN THE STORM.

Twenty People Frozen in Oklahoma Territory.

GUTHRIE, Ok., Feb. 13.—It has been terribly cold during the storm that has swept over the territory within the last few days, and stories of awful suffering are coming in from various points. Twenty persons have been found frozen to death. A report comes from the northern part of the territory that six persons of one family were murdered by the father to prevent their suffering while dying with cold. The seven bodies were found in one house with their throats cut. In the house was also found a note signed by the father, who left word that he had killed his wife and children to save them from freezing. He added that he himself would commit suicide, and the evidence of his wounds and the knife clutched in his right hand as it lay beside him bears out his promise of self-destruction.

KANSAS A FIELD FOR THE STORM.

For Forty-Eight Hours Snow Falls Throughout the State.

TOPEKA, Kan., Feb. 13.—The snow storm that has prevailed with but few intermissions for the last forty-eight hours is the heaviest that has visited Kansas for several winters. Some snow, but not much, fell before Saturday night, but the heaviest of the storm began early Sunday morning. The snow continued all day and all night until nearly noon to-day. A strong north wind carried the snow into drifts. Nine degrees above zero was the lowest the thermometer went yesterday, and during the night it dropped to 4 degrees. Trains on all railroads are blocked. The snow is light and continues to drift, so that tracks once cleaned are frequently again blocked.

OTTAWA, Kan., Feb. 13.—The heaviest snow storm known for nearly twenty years took place here yesterday. About 10 o'clock yesterday morning the snow began falling, and during the rest of the day and last night it continued with increasing violence. The temperature was not lower than 12 degrees above zero yesterday, and this morning the sun came out bright and melted considerable of the snow. The storm will do much good to the wheat.

Imprisoned Off Chicago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—Seventy men, with blankets strapped about them, are huddled together in the third story of the waterworks crib off Sixty-eighth street. Waves filled with ice are dashing savagely against the structure and washing through the lower stories, whose windows have been smashed in by the storm. Early this morning it seemed the structure would not go to pieces, although the greatest apprehension is felt. If the men are not washed away it is likely they will be severely prostrated by the cold, for they have no fire. They represent the day and night shifts at work on the new tunnel. Their task would have ended to-morrow. A fruitless effort to rescue the men by the tug Rosaline yesterday nearly resulted in the wreck of the boat and the loss of five brave men.

Trains Delayed in Missouri.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 13.—The storm which began Sunday evening about 11 o'clock yesterday, after having run a varied course, including rain, sleet, drizzle and snow, each repeated two or three times during the night. Telegraph, telephone and electric wires are down, and as a result numerous deaths of animals from the live currents have been reported, but so far no human beings have been injured. Reports received here from points in southern Illinois, southern and central Indiana, Missouri and Arkansas give the same story—the heaviest snow of the season, with wind in a majority of cases drifting the snow badly.

Sweeps New England Coast.

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 13.—The snow storm which began late yesterday afternoon made it one of the roughest nights of the winter. The most serious disaster reported is that to the schooner Fortuna of Gloucester aground off Race Point, two of its crew being reported drowned, two missing, and the vessel itself being in great danger of going to pieces on the bar. Eighteen persons were landed safely on the beach. The gale increased in the evening and the storm raged with unabated fury, indicating disaster to any craft that was caught outside a harbor while it continued. The wind was moderate, but there was a heavy fall of fine snow.

Damaged by a Cyclone.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 13.—Advices received in this city indicate that a cyclone passed over the states of Louisiana and Mississippi last night and this morning, and left in its wake many casualties and a vast amount of destruction. Communication with the points most severely affected is interrupted. All the wires are down and only the most meager reports thus far have been received. The most alarming report is from Newtown, La., which place is said to have been wiped off the face of the earth. This has not been confirmed.

Worst of the Season in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 13.—The storm has been blustering here since Sunday morning. It has been one of the worst of the season. A large amount of snow has fallen. Traffic of all kinds has been interrupted. Most of the trains have been delayed, although an effort is being made to keep the roads open. Reports brought from surrounding towns and towns throughout central Iowa show the storm to have been equally severe through this section.

Terrific Storm in Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 13.—A wind storm of cyclone intensity and force swept over western and central Kentucky yesterday, followed at night by the blizzard conditions of intense cold and swirling snow. Many reports of minor damage have been received from the interior of the state.

Death to Three Men.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Feb. 13.—Two freight trains collided on the Wheeling and Lake Erie road in the storm yesterday, two miles west of Bellevue, Ohio. Four men were killed—two engineers, one fireman and a brakeman.

PECK, DOE & CLARK, THE ROSTER FIRM.

GOVERNOR GIVES NEW POINTS ON JOBBERY.

Adjutant General Made the Price For the Books Early in March But No Contract Was Signed Until the Times Was "Sold" to Publisher McFall.

MADISON, Feb. 13.—Governor Peck gave a second installment of facts in the roster case today. Skillful questioning brought out many details that were not developed on the first day's examination. In fact, yesterday's inquiries did not get beyond the simple preliminaries to the attempt to job the state out of a big sum of money through the secret contract. The governor told of endorsing a $2,500 times note for Colonel Clark—the note that was afterwards paid with $2,500 of the Tracy, Gibbs & Co. cash.

He first contemplated printing the roster early in January, 1893. He learned of it from the adjutant general. General Doe suggested in March that 25,000 volumes would be necessary. The Governor thought there would be comparatively few old soldiers who would want it. He "didn't think it was a book which would be used as much as the bible," but he finally consented to order 30,000 volumes at $1.90 per volume.

Price Fixed by Doe.

He said that the price was fixed by the adjutant general as coming from the Times, and he told the adjutant general to go ahead, if he thought it could be legally done. He relied upon Doe's advice as an attorney and as adjutant general, but suggested that the written opinion of the attorney general as the law officer of the state be obtained by Doe. He had objected to taking the work to the Times when Clark was at the head of it, and had been informed shortly after that Clark had sold the paper to McFall.

A significant fact was the governor's testimony, showing that the contract was agreed upon with the price, in the middle of March, while the sale of the Times, with the letter of the adjutant general to the attorney general, came some time after that.

The "loan" of state funds to the Stoughton bank and the Clinton bank in $10,000 lumps after the Times got in hard lines was dwelt upon at considerable length in the examination to-day.

KEARSARGE CREW SAFE.

City of Para Takes Them From Roncador Reef, Landing at Colon.

COLON, Feb. 13.—With one exception every member of the crew and staff of officers of the United States cruiser Kearsarge is safely housed here.

The rescue was performed at noon last Saturday by the steamer City of Para, which started from here last Friday, returning this morning. The castaways, numbering 175, were found in very comfortable circumstances at Roncador reef and all were enjoying good health. But for the drowning of one man the rescue would have been one of the most remarkable ever recorded. The drowned man was Anderson Robbins, a second-class fireman.

The joy of the castaways on being taken aboard may be partially imagined but not described. At this place they were given a reception befitting princes. The old warship was abandoned on Roncador reef with the stars and stripes still flying at her peak. The steamship City of Para with the crew of the Kearsarge on board will leave this port for New York on Wednesday next.

HAWAII CORRESPONDENCE.

The President Sends More of It to Congress Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The President late yesterday afternoon transmitted to congress additional Hawaiian correspondence. The correspondence consisted of dispatches from Minister Willis at Hawaii and the reply to one of them from Secretary of State Gresham, with an interview which occurred between the secretary and Mr. Thurston, representing the provisional government at Washington. The correspondence in no way affects the situation and shows nothing new.

MAY DROP MILTON FROM THE LIST.

WELLS AND THE ROCK COUNTY SCHOOL.

Teachers Hear that the State Superintendent Means to Remove It from the Accredited List—Its Curriculum Questioned—Some Prominent Men Graduated There.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 13.—Teachers in all parts of the state are interested to know what Superintendent Wells intends to do about continuing Milton college on the list of accredited institutions, whose diplomas are equivalent to the unlimited state certificate. Objection has been raised to the continuance of Milton on the list, because it is claimed that the curriculum of that college is not up to the required standard, but Superintendent Wells has as yet taken no action in the matter.

If Milton were dropped it would leave some of the most prominent men in the state without the equivalent of a certificate among other President L. D. Harvey, of the Milwaukee Normal School, and President Albert Salisbury and Professor Humphrey, both of the Whitewater Normal School.

HONOR TO OLD AGE.

Lincoln's Birthday Was Generally Celebrated Through the Country.

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—Yesterday was a holiday. All courts were closed, all the public offices and banks and exchanges were deserted, and the business of the city moved slowly. At night at the Auditorium the seventh general celebration was held. The address of the evening was delivered by that eloquent man whose life is interwoven with Chicago and its rise—Robert McIntyre, preacher and poet.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Abraham Lincoln's birthday is known as "Union Defenders' Day" in the calendar of the Sons of Veterans of the United States, and in accordance with general orders issued by Commander-in-Chief Joseph B. McCabe it will be observed with appropriate exercises by camps of the order throughout the country. Several hundred prominent republicans banqueting in the evening at Delmonico's under the auspices of the Republican club and in recognition of Lincoln's birthday. The only guest was United States Senator Cullom of Illinois. He responded to the toast, "The Memory of Lincoln."

BLIZZARD IN CHICAGO.

The Wind Blowing Seventy Miles an Hour Yesterday Morning.

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—A blizzard that is sweeping the country in a northeasterly direction struck Chicago shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday and by 6 a howling storm rendered travel on the streets well nigh impossible.

The wind was strong all night but along toward 4 o'clock it suddenly increased in force and an hour later a small cyclone was on the city. By 6 o'clock snow was falling and with snow and wind and a falling thermometer Chicago was being treated to a first-class blizzard. It was the edge of the same storm which swept over Kansas City and is now raging in the Ohio valley.

Chicago saw the worst of the blow yesterday. It is a storm that has swept from the Pacific and gulf to Illinois and before stopping will reach the Atlantic. Where Chicago has snow to-day other cities have had rain and snow may follow. While Chicago is not in the real center yet the sudden change here makes the blizzard felt as strong as in the actual center.

From lack of reports in the northwest the weather man feels confident that many wires are down. Reports were slow coming in this morning and even from semi-tropical Texas came a report of cold, hard weather, following the fierce storm that is now on Chicago.

VILAS SAYS PECKHAM WILL WIN.

Senator Encouraged By the Fact that the Committee Didn't Act.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The preliminary contest over the Peckham nomination has ended in a draw. The judiciary committee took up the matter this morning, and after several speeches pro and con split even on the vote, and the nomination was referred to the senate without recommendation. Those voting for a favorable report were Vilas, George, Lindsay, Platt and Mitchell. Those voting against it were Hill, Pugh, Coke, Wilson and Teller. Senator Hoar was absent. His presence would have decided the question one way or the other. How he would have voted can not be told. Both sides claim to have the best of it. Senator Vilas says that Peckham is now certain to be confirmed, but Hill claims a following large enough to enable him to lose several votes without affecting the ultimate result.

DISTRICT DAY IN THE HOUSE.

Rather Dull Session of Our Representatives at Washington.

The secretary is also authorized to issue certificates in excess of this amount, but not to exceed the seigniorage.

The urgency deficiency bill was passed. After eulogies upon the late Senator Stanford of California the President's message transmitting additional correspondence in the Hawaiian matter was laid before the house. Adjourned.

IN THE SENATE.

Senator Cullom Presents a Petition Against the Free Wool Scheme.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Mr. Cullom (rep., Ill.) presented in the senate yesterday a number of petitions against the placing of wool on the free list. He expressed the hope that the finance committee would give the matter due attention.

Petitions from West Virginia against putting coal and lumber on the free list were presented by Mr. Faulkner (dem., W. Va.).

Mr. Cockrell (dem., Mo.) presented a memorial of the St. Louis Merchants' exchange declaring that the present stagnation in business is due to the uncertainty of congressional action on the tariff bill, and praying that the question may be settled as speedily as possible.

Mr. Gallinger (rep., N. H.) introduced a substitute for the Wilson tariff bill and had it referred to the finance committee. The substitute is a slight variation of the resolution heretofore offered by him. It declares that, in view of the widespread industrial depression, it is the sense of the senate that it is unwise to attempt any change in the tariff laws.

Favors Woman Suffrage.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Mr. Pence (pop., Colo.) offered in the house a bill providing for woman suffrage. TWO MORE BOMBS IN PARIS.

Police Station and Restaurant Blown Up by Anarchists.

PARIS, Feb. 13.—The police station at Rue Amand Carrel is said to have been totally wrecked by dynamite this morning. The news has created a sensation, for the second of the bomb outrages when Paris has been tearing ever since Vaillant's execution came last night, an infernal machine being thrown in the cafe of the Hotel Terminus. The bomb exploded in the middle of the room and wounded twenty persons. At 11 o'clock only an incomplete list of the injured could be obtained. Whether it was an anarchist outrage or private vengeance is not yet decided. The current opinion is that it has the latter character. The bomb broke up the wooden floor of the cafe for a space of 1 foot square. A big piece of the shell of the bomb and apparently flown upward and struck the ceiling. Several chairs were shattered and the floor was strewn with broken glasses. The cafe was crowded at the time of the explosion. Thirteen persons were injured. That part of the cafe in which the bomb was thrown was isolated by rows of chairs backed by the police. The man's name is Leon Breton, and he is not known to the police as a militant anarchist. He was arrested.

WILL STICK TO THE PROGRAM.

Gladstone Has No Intention of Dissolving Parliament Within a Month.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The highest liberal authority contradicts the report sent to America that a dissolution of parliament is probable within thirty days. Assurances have been given that the ministry is entirely harmonious, that Mr. Gladstone comes back with renewed vigor and determination to carry through his great measures of reform, and that the recent action of the house of lords has injected a new feature into the purposes of the liberal party, perhaps the most important in its history, the ending or mending of the upper house. Mr. Gladstone will not dissolve parliament until that issue is made perfectly clear before every voter in Great Britain.

HAS CURED HIM OF CATARRH.

Dr. McChesney's Success Certified to by W. Van Antwerp, of Beloit.

This statement from one of Dr. H. A. McChesney's patients is well worth attention:

BELOIT, Wis., Feb. 12, 1893. To Whom It May Interest: For over two years I have been a great sufferer from catarrh, which affected not only my lungs, but also my hearing and I was fast becoming deaf. I had tried all known remedies without relief, and had about given up in despair, believing that I was doomed to consumption. Hearing of Dr. McChesney's skill and wonderful treatment I concluded to consult him. He gave me a thorough examination and diagnosed my case so completely that I placed my case in his care. After six weeks trial of his scientific treatment, I feel like a new man. I am now able to breathe freely through my nostrils. My lungs are causing me no uneasiness. The ringing and roaring in my ears have ceased.

Dr. McChesney has done more for me than he advertises to do. I regard him as a most skillful physician, an honest gentleman and a blessing to all sufferers whom he treats.

NOYES BURNED VERY BADLY.

Hands and Face Give Him Great Pain—Had a Close Call.

Eugene Noyes, the young man who was burned at the Hay Tool Company fire last week, is suffering much pain on account of his burns. His right hand was burned most.

"I don't see how Noyes ever got out of that place alive," said President W. T. Vankirk, of the Hay Tool Company. "You see when the men discovered that they could not smother the fire they realized that they had to force their way through the blaze in order to escape. They picked up a number of old coffee sacks. These they wound around their heads. Then they picked up Noyes and carried him through the fire to the stairs. It was very lucky for Noyes that these men were with him. Had they passed out at first as many would have done, poor Noyes would have been burned to death. I was up to see Noyes this morning, and while he appeared very comfortable, I could see that he was in great pain on account of his burns. The skin and much of the flesh is cooked. His face is terribly burned."

PLEASANT Y. M. C. A. RECEPTION

A Goodly Audience Heard the Program Given Last Night.

The Y. M. C. A. rooms were comfortably filled last night by an audience that came to attend the young men's reception which was given by the Ladies' Auxiliary. Those who took part were Miss Phemie Grant, Mrs. W. S. Jeffris, Mrs. Christine Hawley and the Third Ward mandolin and guitar club consisting of mandolins—Edwin Holmes, Andrew C. Pond. Banjos—Fred Miner, J. G. DeLong. Guitars—George D. Davis, Will S. Pond and B. P. Nowlan. It was the club's first appearance but they got an ovation as also W. S. Pond and George D. LIQUOR CASES FROM ORFORDVILLE

Charles Rosseter Acquitted and the End Is Not Yet.

Charles Rosseter, of Orfordville was acquitted of the charge of selling liquor without a license. Ellen Shafer was also a defendant but she was too sick to appear in court. Rosseter is her son-in-law, and claimed that it was "malt" that he sold and that the customers bought it by the case and paid for it when they saw fit, while Mrs. Shafer simply allowed it to be stored in her hotel. Michael Noonan will be tried for the fourth time next Thursday and at the same time his sister Mary Noonan will have another trial. Charles Gansel, Mrs. Shafer's son, is charged with the same violation of the law and will be tried Saturday.

The physical strength of a tiger is nearly twice as great as that of a lion. The Emperor Hue-Tu of Cochinchina protects his treasures by placing them in hollow trunks of trees, which float about a huge tank situated in the center of the royal palace. There are twenty crocodiles in the tank as well. When he wishes to draw upon this bank all the reptiles are killed.

Professor Garner is by no means a pioneer in the investigation of the Simian language. Lady Burton records in her husband's biography that the late Sir Richard had forty monkeys which sat down daily with him at dinner, and that he had quite mastered the elements of their speech. He had made a list of about sixty of their most familiar words, but the paper was lost in a fire.

While a big herd of cattle, being driven from the ranch to market, was passing through the Snohomish valley, Washington, an immense deer, the largest ever seen in those parts, bounded out of the woods and joined the drove. Partly because of the difficulty of cutting out the animal from the middle of the herd, where it quickly worked its way, and partly through curiosity as to what it would do, the cowboys did not molest it. The deer remained quietly walking with the herd for eight hours, and finally entered into a corral with the cattle at Snohomish, where it was captured.

The breath of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked, and frequently destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which is usually, the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results by its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as far the best and only cure. Call upon your druggist for it.

FOUND NINE CASES OF CONTAGION.

DR. ROBINSON'S REPORT FOR JANUARY FILED.

Forty Prisoners Confined in the Jail and Likely to Be Locked Up For Another Week—All Infected Bedding and Clothing Is to Be Burned.

Health Officer Robinson has filed his January report with the city clerk, detailing the several cases of contagious diseases prevailing in the city during that month. The doctor notes nine cases of contagion, one of which was small-pox, the only case proving fatal. Of the nine cases reported, one was diphtheria, one typhoid, one small pox and six scarlet fever.

"I do not know just what will be done about cleansing the county jail," said the health officer this morning, "but we will be compelled to do something this week. There are some forty prisoners confined in the jail. I think all their clothing and bedding should be burned. The jail building should be closed up tight, and sulphur burned throughout the building, after which the building should be thoroughly whitewashed. It will cost something to do this, but it should not be half done. I shall hold the prisoners at the jail until all doubts are removed. Perhaps it will be a week before quarantine is removed and the prisoners released."

McNEESE IN THE TOILS AGAIN.

Janesville Bad Man Comes to Grief in Jefferson County.

The trial of Dan McNeese on charge of burglary has commenced at Jefferson. McNeese is an old time Janesville crook, who has served time in Waupun for his crooked work hereabouts. Clerk E. D. McGowan went to Jefferson as a witness in the case, taking his court records to prove that McNeese had been convicted here. The Jefferson officials will endeavor to send McNeese over the road again.

A murderer in Alabama fled the scene of his crime. Soon after, a man of the name and appearance, including a peculiar scar, was positively identified as the murderer, found guilty and sentenced to death. Before the fatal day ample evidence was furnished to prove that he was at work in Tennessee at the time of the murder.

At the late Paris exposition an ingenious Tyrolean daily exhibited a trained flea that was made to operate a miniature of the great fifty-ton Krupp hammer. This model, which was of pure gold, with its uprights, levers, etc., weighed but two grains; the hammer itself, perfect in every detail, weighed but one-third of a grain.

The burgomaster of Brussels has ordered the formation of a cyclist corps in connection with the local fire brigade for the purpose of carrying the first aid to the persons in danger through an outbreak. The men are already being drilled every day, the machines selected being tricycles, upon which they carry a coil of rope, a hatchet and other articles useful in cases of emergency.

Lew Fiscus traded horses with Shad Starr. The horse given Starr was afflicted with the "heaves," as was discovered later, and Starr was dissatisfied. One night he returned the diseased horse to Fiscus and took home the horse he had traded. Fiscus prosecuted him. After hearing both sides Judge Rayburn, at Kittanning, Pa., instructed the jury to acquit the defendant, as it was shown the taking of the horse was not done feloniously, but justly.

By a remarkable piece of engineering a large area of salt meadows, nearly 1,500 acres, at Bridgeport, Conn., has been ditched, diked against the tide, and is rapidly being got into upland grass.

A button of supposedly great age, bearing in the center the initials "G. W." and around them the motto, "Long live the president," is a recent find at Matters Station, Maryland by J. P. Wises. Encircling the edge are the names of the thirteen original states.

The button hook has grown to be such an elaborate and costly article that it has a case of its own made of a delicate shade of kid. On the cover button hooks and a glove buttoner are painted, while gilt letters proclaim: "On buttons I'm bent, and though but a crook, for buttons I'm willing to serve as a hook." The inside of the case is lined with tufted satin.

The old parish prison in New Orleans that was built in 1834, and was for many years the largest jail in the Southwest, has been sold. It was used at first largely for the confinement of runaway slaves, and served as a military prison during the war. All the executions in New Orleans, thirty-six in number, between 1840 and 1892, took place there.

A flying sheet of paper struck a horse in the face on a New York street. The frightened animal ran away, jerking the boy who was driving, and who held onto the reins, out of the buggy. The horse swept on, and the boy would probably have been pounded to death on the pavement had not a policeman managed to jump into the wagon. He drew the boy back, caught the reins and soon quieted the horse.

PUNS AND PLEASANTRIES.

"I've lost my ring, Bridget." "Why don't ye advertise it, mum, an' no questions asked?" "What good would it do?" "Ye might find it, mum; me laist mistress did, an' Oi got the reward."

Mary—Please, sir, the man with the grocer's bill has called again; what shall I say to him? Mr. Grinder—Tell him that I've bought a couple of moonhounds, and would he call again to-morrow.

Mr. Saphead, during the honeymoon—When did my little duckie darling first discover that she loved me? Bride, sweetly—When I found myself getting mad every time anyone called you a fool.

"The man that just passed doesn't look as if he was hard up." "He does not." "Yet his business is always flagging." "Is that so? What business is he in?" "He is the signal man at the railroad crossing."

Young Reporter—I have been sent out here to report this game of polo, and I don't know a thing about the game. Polo Player—I'll give you the names of all the players and spectators, and my sister will tell you how each lady is dressed. Never mind about the game.

Auctioneer—This book, gentlemen, is especially valuable, as it contains marginal notes in the handwriting of Alexander Von Humboldt. A hundred marks offered. Going—going—gone. It is yours, sir. (The autograph marginal note by the renowned scholar was as follows: "This book is not worth the paper it is printed on.")

They All Serve Austria.

The polyglot character of the Austrian army was abundantly shown the other day when the ancient custom of solemnly swearing in the recruits in the presence of the troops was revived, after having been discontinued since 1858. In Vienna alone the formula of oath to the colors had to be administered and read out in nine languages, to-wit: German, Hungarian, Croatian, Bohemian, Polish, Ruthenian, Roumanian, Servian and Turkish, while the religious part of the ceremony was conducted by Roman Catholic, Greek Catholic and Greek orthodox priests, Protestant pastors, Jewish rabbis and Mahometan ulema.

Donkeys Not Admitted.

"Do you know, Miss Uptown, that I've been in the horse show," said Dudeley Canesucker.

"I understood that it is purely an equine exhibit, no other animals being permitted," replied Miss Uptown. —Texas Siftings.

Why Dogs Wag Their Tails.

All dogs wag their tails when pleased, and the movement is generally understood by their human associates as an intimation that they are very happy. The chief delight of wild dogs, as with modern hounds and sporting dogs, is in the chase and its accompanying excitement and consequences. When the presence of game is first detected is invariably the time when tails are wagged for the common good. The wagging is almost an invariable accompaniment of this form of pleasure, which is one of the chiefest among the agreeable emotions when in a wild state. Owing to some inoculation of the nervous mechanism the association of pleasure and wagging has become so inseparable that the movement of the tail follows this emotion, whatever may call it forth.

BAD POLITICS.

This is the incendiary stuff the Chicago Herald and other democratic papers are spreading broadcast:

"The battle of the people against the protective tariff plunderers is still to be fought out. The passage of the Wilson bill, if it finally becomes a law, means little more than the capture of one of the enemy's outposts. The citadel of the foe is to be assaulted later."

Frankly and manfully the Madison Democrat wars on such dangerous nonsense. "This kind of newspaper talk," it declares, "is bad politics and worse in principle. By 'tariff plunderers,' is meant any manufacturer who is believed to be benefited by the protection of the tariff laws. It is not strange that capital is tumbling over itself to get out of the industries and into three per cent. bonds. After the country has had some more of this sort of teaching the train robbers will be pretty respectable citizens when compared with men who put their capital into any productive industry."

"There is no reasonable doubt but that a large share of the responsibility for the financial and industrial depression of the past year rests upon exactly this sort of tariff rant. If this is true and only an 'outpost' has thus far been captured what will be the condition of the industries and of working men by the time the 'citadel' is 'assaulted'? It might be better to set fire to every establishment in the country in which there is a wheel turning on a working man employed and clean out the 'tariff plunderers' at once."

"It is entirely safe to say that this country will not see much of prosperity again while the popular yawn is for the destruction of any and every industry that is likely to produce any wealth or prosperity or furnish employment to any of the unemployed."

THE CASE DRAGS.

It is pretty hard for any one to get interested in the prolongation of the Cronin trial that has been dragging along for the past few weeks. Thus far it does not appear to add anything but more contradictions to the history of the famous case. There are sensations one day in the shape of new and apparently decisive testimony, which are destroyed the next by a flat denial of the truth of all the evidence offered. It does not seem probable at this time that much new light will ever be thrown upon that horrible tragedy, or that the general public opinion of it, which is not a logical or judicial affair, but simply a deduction from all the facts obtainable, is likely to suffer change.

Well—there are not many people in Janesville who will be crushed out of existence by the imposition of the income tax anyway. That is some consolation for the fatuity of the party in power at Washington just now—though we should greatly like to be enabled to take a larger view of a question of so much general importance.

No wonder Wisconsin democracy is in bad odor. Matters of more or less importance are being decided without Boss Wall's advice. The boss confided this to Attorney Jeffris and did it in a tone that showed his complete disapprobation of matters democratic. The second term of the roster dynasty is a bad one for Wall and all his cohorts.

Be particular in noticing that when a democratic paper speaks of anything in a foreign country, it always alludes to the "cheapness" of the article. Why don't the whole of them go there to live if they like cheap goods? This country can get along without them.

Janesville will have a chance this spring to show her regard for the veterans of the state. The annual encampment here should be made a success from "revivals" to "taps."

A STARTLING STORY.

ONE OF CIVIL AND ONE OF WAR LIFE.

A Brave Man Wins a Medal and a Woman Finds a Prize—They Will Both Interest You and Tell You Just What You Want to Know.

A most fascinating story comes to us from Montpelier, Vt., concerning Mr. Wallace W. Noyes and his wife, prominent people of that city. Mr. Noyes fought all through the war with distinguished bravery. He was in the battles of the Wilderness, Spotsylvania, Cold Harbor, Petersburg, Winchester, Cedar Creek and others.

He was wounded April 2d, 1865, at Petersburg. He is one of the few privates who have ever received a medal of honor from the U. S. government for distinguished bravery. He stood on the wall of the fort at Spotsylvania in the bloody angle, and was the only man that lived in that spot. Mr. Noyes was wounded seven days before the final surrender, and up to that time never lost a day during the whole war, enlisting when 17 years of age.

His wife had an equally interesting experience. We give it to our readers in her own words expressed in the following letter:

"I was completely run down," she said, "and my nerves were in a very weak condition. I had no refreshing sleep and felt tired and dragged out all the time. I was so extremely nervous that when the door bell rang I would scream out and if any of the children dropped anything it would effect me the same way."

"My work was very hard and exhausting at that time. My appetite and digestion were very poor, and what I did eat did not do me much good. I was one day going to my family physician for help, not being able to work any longer in that condition."

MRS. WALLACE W. NOYES.

"I had read and heard a great deal about Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and that day I took up a paper and saw more of the testimonials. That very day I got a bottle and commenced taking it. Before I had taken the first bottle I could see that it was helping me and I was feeling better."

"I have now taken five bottles and do not feel the need of any more, being completely cured. I sleep well and have a good appetite. If I should be taken again I should take Dr. Greene's medicine. Please publish this to the world for the good of everyone."

What greater prize could the world contain than a medicine which can cure such suffering as that? Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is constantly performing the most wonderful cures all over the land.

Are you sick, weak or in pain? Then take this wonderful medicine and it will surely cure you. You need it especially at this season to prepare your system for spring. You need not fear to use it, for it is purely vegetable and harmless and is the discovery of Dr. Greene, of 35 West 44th Street, New York City, the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic disease. The doctor can be consulted at his office free, personally or by letter.

Board of Trade May Consolidate.

WEST SUPERIOR, Wis., Feb. 13.—The Duluth and Superior boards of trade may be consolidated and a fine building erected here to replace the one burned at Duluth. Most of the business of the Duluth board for the last six months has been done by Superior millers and commission men. Minnesota inspection will be retained.

Mr. Wilson Is Better.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 13.—Congressman W. L. Wilson, chairman of the house ways and means committee, who is lying ill at the Coates House here, is closely confined to his room, but is somewhat better and expects to resume his journey to Mexico Thursday. His condition is not regarded as serious.

Teamster Kills a Colored Driver.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Feb. 13.—Chester Mullen, a contracting teamster, shot and instantly killed James Thomas, one of his colored drivers, because the latter had failed to turn over $5 he had collected for two loads of coal. Mullen then walked to the Walnut Hill Police station and gave himself up.

However Janesville is lighted—gas, electricity or oil—it should not cost more than the former limit of the gas fund allowed. This is not a good year to encourage extravagance.

It will astonish you how quick Johnson's Magnetic Oil will kill all pain. Sold at Smith's pharmacy; 25 and 50 cents.

THE TURF.

Jockey Regan met with a serious accident at New Orleans. Lockport, his mount, crowded against the fence, frightfully lacerating the boy's leg.

H. M. Mason is training a colt that he thinks will prove to be a valuable addition to the racing contingent. He is called the Examiner, by Surinam-imp. Paloma.

Perry Belmont has asked J. W. Rogers to train for him two colts by The Ill-Used and out of Magnetism. One is a 3-year-old called Illusion; the other, a 2-year-old, has not been named. Mr. Belmont's colors will be maroon, cherry bars and cap.

Rudolph will not start again in California. This has been decided by Trainer B. J. Johnson. The gelding will be saved for races at Latonia and Washington Park.

Here is a bold proposition, also a most important one to horsemen. W. O'B. Macdonough has leased nine of the greatest brood mares of the Stanford estate to be bred to the "horse of the century," the $150,000 Ormonde. Macdonough agrees to give the Stanford estate all the fillies in the produce, while he will retain the colts.

One of the anomalies of western racing is the action of the Bay district track management in reinstating W. P. Maxwell and Harry Storer, alleged scheming owners and trainers, and Riley Grannon, the bookmaker who made money because he knew when Jockey Miller was not going to ride to win. It is thought, however, that this sudden action was due to the influence of Tom Williams, who has relented somewhat in his revengeful persecution of several racing people.—Chicago Post.

Corbett vs. Jackson.

The chief topic of interest to the fistie fraternity at present is the forthcoming glove battle between those quondam opponents, Champion James J. Corbett and Peter Jackson, which is fixed for decision in the leafy month of June, before that reputable club which shall offer the most tempting purse. Several offers have already been made, and in some of them the amount proposed to be hung up reaches a figure that exceeds any previous offer for a pugilistic encounter. There is a very general opinion, well founded too, that the second engagement between Corbett and the dusky boxer should result in one of the most desperate and evenly contested prize ring combats witnessed for years, and there is consequently strong rivalry in the struggle to secure the prize attraction by fistie clubs and communities everywhere. The Winnipeg, Canada, Athletic club has offered $50,000.

Life Was a Burden

Because of the intense pains in my stomach and side, and also on account of gall stones. After eating I would be in great distress. The Jas. H. Walker Company's Goods Have Not Arrived.

We cannot tell within a day or two of the exact time of their arrival. It is not strange that the shipment might be a little tardy, as we have to await our turn. Just think of $650,000 worth of merchandise being boxed up and shipped to all parts of the country; think of the lively times in the shipping room; think of the force required to handle such an enormous quantity of goods. But our purchases will be received at no distant date. We are as anxious to get them as the people are to know they are here and will scatter the news broadcast at the earliest possible moment.

Snow-Fall Ceases at Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 13.—After continuing for twenty-four hours and breaking all records noted by the local weather bureau the blizzard suspended operations at 10 o'clock this morning so far as the snow accompaniment is concerned. A brisk wind still blows from the north, and though the mercury is not low, being 14 degrees, the indications are for much colder weather to-night.

A Whimsical Chap.

Once tried to quote Bulwer (was it Bulwer?) and said, "Great aches from little toe corns grow," and altho' he didn't exactly quote he got there, got there as it were, with both feet, at least with a part of both.

"To be or not to be," said Shakespeare, (or Bacon?) and he toe, may not be far off. Foot it over hill and dale, 'til you are weary and footsore, and you cannot find such bargains as we offer in building sites, Homesites, for on these and the prices of the same and terms, too, we always did "ace the mark." For some reason we are this spring getting onto the goods, the prices and the terms with both feet. And so, with Hamlet we soliloquize: "The wonder grows", why people are not "up in arms" when the prices we quote are looked into. You can get a home, if you wish, so long as we are in the business; hard times don't count. If you are not earning so much money as you did last year, we will meet you; it don't matter.

Homesites and Homes are our fad; to help people get 'em is what we are on for, this time.

The main secret, we suppose, why we always get the major part of the real estate trade going, is that we own a large part of the property that we offer. Another part of the secret is, we deal every time so that our customer sends to us his or her friend when they want to deal.

Our beginnings here were not large, but so true it is that "Great oaks from little acorns grow," that the "birds of the air" have their homes,—build their nests,—in the result of our grain of mustard seed. Come over and roost with us. Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

ASHTON'S SMALL POX OF MALIGNANT TYPE.

SHERIFF BEAR HAS RETURNED FROM MADISON.

Rock County Prisoner Was Put In a Separate Corridor of the Jail the Day He Arrived In Madison and None of the Other Prisoners Were Exposed.

Matthew R. Ashton has small pox of the most pronounced type. He can't be put in the pest house, but is isolated in the hospital end of the new Dane county jail. This is a wing separate from the jail proper and is rigidly quarantined. Ashton is in the third story.

Sheriff Bear came back from Madison today. "I didn't see Ashton, of course, but they tell me he is a very sick man," said the sheriff. "He thinks he got the disease in Jefferson. He first complained of not feeling well Saturday night, but his only trouble was thought to be a cold. Last evening he felt a little worse, and this morning his condition was such that the jailer summoned a physician. Dr. Phil Fox was called, and after a thorough examination pronounced it an undoubted case of small pox.

None of the other prisoners in the jail, of whom there are twenty, have been exposed to the disease by contact with Ashton. When he arrived at Madison he requested that he be given quarters apart from the other prisoners, and the sheriff is congratulating himself that he complied with the request. Ashton was placed in an isolated cell, on the third floor, in the north corner, the corridors leading to the other cells on that floor being closed by tight iron doors, and no other prisoner has come in contact with him during his confinement.

Ashton Can't Go to a Pest House.

All the other prisoners have been vaccinated as a matter of precaution and great care will be exercised. Had this been done in Jefferson, Ashton would not have been sick to-day. A prisoner who was in the corridor with Ashton at Jefferson broke out with what was called "rash" just before he was discharged. He was arrested in Juneau the next day and had no more than landed in jail when he was found to be suffering from small pox of a malignant type.

As soon as Ashton broke out it was proposed that he be sent to the Madison pest house. Sheriff Brown took legal advice and decided not to run the risk. A condemned murderer is a serious charge to have in his keeping, and it is a question whether he can let him leave the jail even under the circumstances. A similar case occurred in Chicago recently where the prisoner was a burglar. Neither the sheriff nor the district attorney would take the responsibility of saying he could go, and a way out of the difficulty was found by securing the prisoner's temporary discharge and recommitting him when he recovered.

The drifts are so located that almost as soon as the snow is removed from the tracks passing vehicles throw it back again. Superintendent Proudfoot realizes that a snow sweeper is the thing the road now needs.

TRAINS COULD NOT FIGHT THE DRIFTS.

TOOK 24 HOURS TO GET UP FROM CHICAGO.

South Bound Limited Held Until 12 O'clock and Then Sent Out With Two Engines—Freights Had to Be Abandoned—Storm Worse in the South.

Joyless and hard is the railroad man's life these days. It isn't all keeping brass buttons polished and helping ladies on and off the train. Snow shovels and profanity now figure. The snow is just like so much sand and an engineer can't run over it or through it. The Chicago & Northwestern "way freight" left Chicago at 5 o'clock yesterday morning and it didn't get here until 5 o'clock this morning. When it did get here it consisted of the engine and caboose, the freight cars being abandoned at Harvard. Two freight trains were snowed in between Barrington and Palatine and one between Palatine and Desplaines. The 6:25 limited got here on time but was held here until 11:45 o'clock and then sent out with two engines. The "accommodation" did not get up from Chicago until 11:45 o'clock last night and then a snow plow had to be run ahead of them.

Conductor "Cal" Westbury of the St. Paul who runs the 9:15 train from Milwaukee on that road, got into the Janesville yards on time last night, but here the train stuck and they had to shovel for two hours to get it out. The storm was general throughout Southern Wisconsin but was worse south of Janesville than it was north.

Along the lake shore it was also more severe. Trains got down as far as Madison in pretty good shape but at that point trouble began. The St. Paul's morning trains all got in on time today.

AGREED TO USE 1200 CANDLE LAMPS

P. NORCROSS Insists That Nothing Was Said About a Higher Standard

EDITOR GAZETTE: The article upon city lighting, which appeared in last evening's issue, contained in its first statement a charge which surprised me. If Mr. Merrill had called up by telephone, the city clerk, he could easily have learned, that the only contract, which the city ever made with me for city lighting expressly stated that the lamps to be furnished and lighted by me were to be known as the 1200 power lamp. In order to make the matter more definite it was further specified in the accepted bid that such lamps should be of the Thomson-Houston make and of the same kind and size as the lamps then in use in this city, in Monroe, Madison and other cities named in the bid.

The e was not at that time nor had there been for several years before that time, nor has there been since then any other are lamp in this city than the 1200 candle power arc lamp. It is not right that a fact so easily ascertained, should be mistated. At another time I will refer to some other statements in the same article. The sum that was paid for arc lamps last year is incorrectly stated, as well as the cost of gas lamps.

P. NORCROSS.

Advertising Pays E. W. Lowell.

The fact that advertising pays is becoming more evident every day. You have only to watch your neighbors for proof. For instance: The Lowell Hardware Co. received a letter from a party in Springfield, Mass., enclosing a draft for six wringers, saying they had seen them advertised in the Gazette. Also another letter from Montana, enclosing a draft for four pairs of skates saying they had seen them advertised in the Gazette; and still another from the northern part of this state, enclosing a draft for a washing machine, saying that they had seen them advertised in the Gazette.

It is a self-evident fact that if you have anything to sell and will tell the people through the best medium, they will buy it.

Wheelock's Ten Day Sale.

On another page of this issue will be found an announcement of Wheelock's Crockery store. It is a special ten day sale of lamps, and the prices quoted are ample proof that you cannot fail to attend. In connection with this, Messrs. Wheelock have arranged a bargain table on which can be found both useful and ornamental articles at one-fourth what they cost at wholesale. For instance, you can find at that counter, handsome bottles with cut glass stoppers that cost $1.75 each for 50 cents; luster band coffee cups and saucers 5 cents a pair; decorated saucers 2 cents each; French china bowls and covers with handles, worth $1.25, cost 75 cents a dozen, for 50 cents a dozen; decorated china spoon holders 5 cents each.

James McNeese the First Witness Put On the Stand.

Jacob Bender's trial on the charge of stabbing James McNeese has fairly begun. McNeese was the first witness and told of visiting several saloons the night of the assault. Whiting, Jr. District Attorney Wheeler is prosecuting the case and Sutherland & Nolan appear for the defence. The jurors are George C. McLean, Will Davis, Carl Pabst, Phillip Rutter, A. E. Rich, W. H. Taylor, Thomas Hemmens, Ed. O. Smith Jr., I. C. Brownell, C. C. Bennett, John Gateley, S. Heddles.

The Irishmen's Injuries.

A story is told of two Irishmen who were caught one night in the loft of a burning building. One of them hastily drew on his trousers and jumped from the window. In his fright and hurry he had pulled on the garment wrong side foremost with an effect which, when he recovered his equilibrium after the jump, excited his profound consternation. "Pat! Pat!" called out his companion, still in the loft; "air ye kilt intirely?" "No, Moike," replied Pat, in hopeless tones, "it's not kilt Oi am, me b'ye, but Oi fear Oi'm fatally twisited!"

Last Year's Fatalities on the Lakes.

Ancient Preservation of the Dead.

THEIR FIRST DISAGREEMENT.

How a Bridal Couple Felt Out Over Their Breakfast.

There was a newly married couple at one of the Washington hotels the other day, and they were as dead in love with each other and as anxious to let nobody else find it out as such people usually are. He was all attention, and the waiter noticed when they came to dinner, which was the first meal served after they reached the hotel, that he ordered everything she did. She wanted her beef well done and so did he. She ordered a glass of milk and rye bread, and he immediately did likewise. When she took a sip of the fluid he followed suit with gallant alacrity, and a man with half an eye could see that he was drinking her health every time. When they were through and had left the room the waiter remarked to the star boarder under his care that "dey wazn" no useter gib such fokes two settis or deeshes. Dey dess et de same stuff, an' orter had wun plate betwix um."

The star boarder happened to be at breakfast synchronously with the devoted twain next morning. They ordered everything alike until it came to eggs.

"How does yer want yer aigs?" queried the waiter.

"Soft boiled," replied the sylph-like bride.

The groom struggled manfully with himself for a moment or two and then grew red to the roots of his hair.

"Gimme mine fried on both sides," he said with a great effort.

A big pair of blue eyes looked at him reproachfully across the table, while he discovered something interesting in the butter dish. Then she sighed. "It was their first difference, and she let him know that she resented it.

A GRAVE-YARD GHOST.

Which Is Thought to Be the Spirit of a Revolutionary Soldier.

A ghost has made its appearance in the graveyard surrounding the historic First Presbyterian church, which is in the middle of the business portion of Elizabeth, N. J. It contains the bones of many Revolutionary soldiers. The phantom was seen first by John Weunser, a baker, who works opposite the graveyard. He was going to get a pair of beer about midnight. He was walking along, thinking, when he was startled by an unearthly sound from the graveyard. He beheld a specter moving to and fro among the headstones and it was muttering in deep tones.

hurling them at him. One struck the iron fence that surrounds the graveyard. The other, Weunser says, struck his hat and knocked it off. Weunser then ran back to the bakery and upstairs into the proprietor's apartments where a party was in the midst of a dance. He told his experience. Several young men rushed from the building and searched the church-yard with lanterns, but failed to find any trace of a human being. Weunser's hat was found in the gutter, and a stone lay near it. The specter was reported abroad again the following night.

EMPEROR WILLIAM'S LATEST.

He Wants a Diamond Worth $5,000,000 for His New Crown.

Emperor William is trying to obtain the biggest diamond in the world for his new crown which is being made in Berlin. This diamond is called the Excelsior. It was found last June in the mines of South Africa and is said to be worth $5,000,000. It is three inches high, nearly three inches broad, weighs 971 karats and is of matchless luster. For it the British government has offered $2,500,000. The excitement of diamond hunting is something new to the young man who rules over Germany and is contributing vastly to the amusement of an interested public by the multiplicity of the roles in which he chooses to appear. It is either the sensation of getting beaten in an English yacht race, or the incident of an addition to the family, or the necessity of increasing the army and taxes at the same time, or the return of an affection in the ear, or the recurring anxiety about France and Russia, or the suppression of socialism, or a military pageant in which he strives to carry off all the glory, or a pheasant shooting match—whatever it be it is very certain the kaiser is bound to keep himself in the public eye. Now it is a chase for a diamond. This restlessness, this recurring desire to say or do or obtain something which will not permit his personality to be even momentarily forgotten makes a lively contribution to the literature concerning the ways of modern kings.

A Contractor's Advice.

Dullam's German Medicine Co. — Gentlemen: I take great pleasure in testifying in behalf of Dullam's German Blood, Liver, Nerve and Kidney Cure. I can safely say that I never took such medicine as that to cleanse the stomach and kidneys. I was suffering for years with biliousness, indigestion and loss of appetite and sleep. One bottle did for me more good than six months' other treatment, and I feel it my duty to testify in its behalf, so others may try it and get cured.

ARCTIC EXPLORATIONS.

Jealousy in the Crew the Great Cause of Their Failure.

The reason that Arctic explorations are all failures is that there is always jealousy arising in the crew. And this will probably always be the case unless natives can be utilized altogether to take the ship to its destination with no white man on board except the explorer and one reliable scientist to corroborate the explorer's discoveries. The natives are quick to learn and could be trained for a voyage of this kind so as to conduct it successfully. But as certain as a white crew goes with the ship, every man grows to imagine that it is the one chance of his lifetime to make a name and fortune by discovering for himself and concealing it from his companions. The result is that a jealousy is engendered which has never yet failed to frustrate the purposes of the voyage. It is possible to either find the open Polar sea, if it exists, or go around the world on the ice until the temperate zone is encountered on the opposite side of the earth. I believe that men can provide for themselves so that the coldest temperature of the earth will not seriously affect them, but they need natives to teach them how. Another thing, if an explorer starts from the temperate zone he will fail. His first winter should be spent in Labrador, his next still further north, and by dividing the voyage he would become acclimated gradually and thoroughly. If the pole is ever reached it will be with a crew of natives and an explorer who is inured to cold by experience in the frigid zone.

A WISE MOTHER.

Her Social Duties Do Not Interfere With Her Children's Pleasures.

A certain Western senator had two sons, little fellows 9 and 11 years of age, when he came to the capital two or three years ago. Their mother had devoted herself to their education and pleasure almost exclusively; but here she found that the demands of society would not permit her to give quite so much time to them. So they were sent to school, and often they had to go to bed without the pretty story.

One evening the mother noticed that the older boy seemed unusually grave. She was making preparations to go out to dinner. He said:

"Mamma, you are going out again?"

"Yes, my dear; mamma has to go. She dislikes to leave you so much, but papa wants her. Go to bed, my dears, and to sleep; you won't miss me then."

"Mamma," said he, with all the gravity of a full-grown man taxed to the limit of his patience:

"Mamma, how much longer is this thing going to last? What is to become of us if you neglect us so?"

the mother devotes all her Saturdays to the youngsters. They visit the art gallery, the museum, the capitol, the old houses and the "Zoo."

"I enjoy it," she says, "as much as they do."

A Hospitable Hostess.

The young lady entered a Chicago book store hesitatingly, as if she were uncertain as to her location. "Can I do anything for you, miss?" asked the polite clerk. "Yes, I want you to send four or five dozen books to our house on Prairie avenue. Here's the address. Send the bill with the books." "What books do you wish, miss?" inquired the clerk. "Oh, any will do so long as there's enough of them. I'm going to have a girl from Boston visit me, and I want to make her feel at home."

Sprigs of Willow.

Among the people of Vienna there is a firm belief in the power of these early messengers of spring, sprigs of the willow. They are taken to church to be blessed, and are then placed over the beds of the children and over the images of saints in the living-room. The common people make their little ones swallow three of the small shoots to preserve them against danger of all kinds. The children are sometimes near suffocating during the experiment.

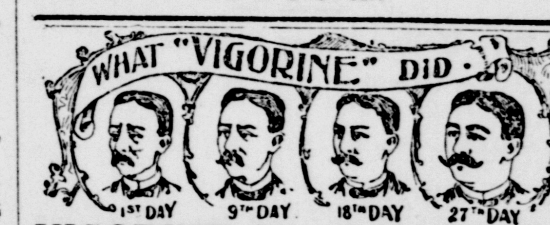

Georgia's Old Capitol.

The old capitol building of Georgia at Milledgeville, which was burned the other day, was built in 1803, but since the capital of the state was moved to Atlanta it has been used as a college for girls. The ordinance of secession was passed under its roof, as was the new constitution under which Georgia renewed her relations with the Union, and all the men of the state of national reputation made their local fame within its walls.

REV. FATHER CLARKE, Sec'y to the Rt. Rev. Bishop of Columbus, Ohio, writes:
Gentlemen:—I cannot say enough for your Powder. It has cured me of an aggravated attack of catarrh when nothing else could help me. Am delighted with it. All my friends to whom I administered samples are quite enthusiastic over it. The good sisters speak most encouragingly of their use of it in the Hospital under their care. I will do anything to speak a good word for the remedy to help others who are suffering.
M. E. FERGUSON, Custodian U. S. Appraiser's Stores, Chicago, writes:
Gentlemen:—I have almost entirely dealt for a number of years past and getting no relief from many so-called cures which I tried, was induced by a friend to try Dr. Birney's Catarrh Powder for my deafness. Have recovered my hearing entirely, so that I can now hear a watch tick plainly, it being held 18 inches from my ear. I look upon it as a positive cure for deafness and have recommended its use to many of my friends and can say I have never heard of a case where it has failed to relieve.

Waring's PERIL.
CAPT. CHARLES KING.
U.S. ARMY.

VIII.
When four days and nights had passed away without a word or sign from Waring, the garrison had come to the conclusion that those officers or men of Battery "X" who still believed him innocent were idiots. So did the civil authorities; but those were days when the civil authorities of Louisiana commanded less respect from its educated people than did even the military. The police force, like the state, were undergoing a process called reconstruction, which might have been impressive in theory, but was ridiculous in practice. A reward had been offered by business associates of the deceased for the capture and conviction of the assassin. A distant relative of old Lascelles had come to take charge of the place until M. Philippe should arrive. The latter's address had been found among old Azamand's papers, and dispatches, via Havana, had been sent to him, also letters. Pierre d'Hervilly had taken the weeping widow and little Nin to the bonne maman's to stay. Alphonse and his woolly-pated mother, true to negro superstitions, had decamped. Nothing would induce them to remain under the roof where foul murder had been done. "De bahants" was what they were afraid of. And so the old white homestead, though surrounded on every side by curiosity seekers and prying eyes, was practically deserted. Cram went about his duties with a heavy heart and light aid. Ferry and Pierce both commanded section snow, as Doyle remained in close arrest and "Pills the Less" in close attendance. Something wouldn't send any to me, for I offended them all by marrying a Yankee officer. God knows I am punished enough for that. But I was so young and innocent when he courted me. I ought to be left—I would of left him as soon as I found out how good-for-nothing he really was, only I was so much in love I couldn't. I was fastened, I suppose. Now I've sold everything, but if you'll only lend me fifty dollars I'll work my fingers to the bone until I pay it. For the old home's sake, please do."

"It's the same hand—the same woman, Cram, beyond a doubt. She bled Waring for the old home's sake the first winter he was in the south. He told me all about it two years ago in Washington, when we heard of her the second time. Now she's followed him over here, or got here first, tried the same game probably, met with a refusal, and this anonymous note is her revenge. The man she married was a crack-brained weakling who got into the army the flag end of the war, fell in love with her pretty face, married her, then they quarreled and he drank himself into a muddle-head. She ran him into debt; then he gambled away government funds, boited, was caught, and would have been tried and sent to jail, but some powerful relative saved him that, and simply had him dropped—never heard of him again. She was about a month grass-widowed when Waring came on his first duty there. He had an uncongenial lot of brother officers for a two-company post, and really had known of this girl and her people before the war, and she ap-
